

Pre~K Update

Week 31

March 12-16

Topic: Ocean Animals

Introductions: Ww and Xx

Vocabulary: wise— having wisdom; showing common sense

X-ray—a black and white image or picture of the inside of the body

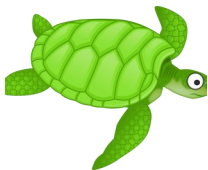

Fable: The Mice and the Weasels

Moral: What we do is more important than how we look.

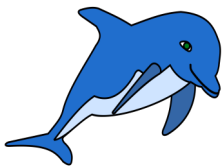

Don't forget to wear your green on Friday, March 17th.

Motor: Hooray for the warmer weather, which gives us the opportunity to go outside more often. The beanbag toss will help us review and a new path to follow will include a rocking boat, hula-hoops and the tumbling mat.

Language Arts: Our topic of conversation this week is ocean animals. We have great stories to read, as well as a few songs about our ocean friends. “What’s wrong with the picture?” will put some laughter into our days as well. Ms. Jen will be building words with the children this week.

Concept: This week Mrs. Ann will teach the children all about life in the ocean. The children will use seashells for counting and patterning. Our review time will include patterns and counting by 2’s and 5’s. “What’s Missing?” is a fun game that helps with visual memory skills.

Craft and Writing: Our numbers and letters will be reviewed through printing readiness papers. Colors and shapes will be reinforced with a following directions worksheet. The children will be asked to color a certain shape a specific color. Look for an ocean project to come home this week!

New Life!

Mrs. Ann picked up 12 eggs from the children’s farm and placed them in the incubator on March 7th. We hope to see chicks in 21 days!
