Week 17 December 10-14

Topic: Christmas

Bits of Intelligence: Flowers

persevere - to persist; to continue with determination pessimistic - having a negative attitude; expecting the worst

Language Arts

This week the double vowel rule will be our focus. Our rule of thumb is - the first one does the "talking", the second one does the "walking". The vowel that does the talking makes a long sound. (Ex. boat, rain) We are also discussing the different names for Santa and his appearance all over the world.

New word wall words: eat, orange, have, want, will

Concept

"2...4...6...8...You've guessed it, we are counting by two's. This will become a part of our morning routine.

The concepts of greater than and less than will continue to be reinforced throughout the week, as well as numerical order, addition, subtraction and place value.

Winter Weather Update

The cold is on its way! The daycare students will be going outside provided the weather/wind chill is 20 degrees or above. Outdoor clothing includes snow pants, gloves, hat, boots and coat. It is our suggestion that girls refrain from wearing dresses in the colder weather.
