January 2nd-11th

Manners: Wait your turn

Bits of Intelligence: Mammals

Language Arts

The Language room has a very busy week ahead. Mrs. Christine will introduce two new songs, one titled "Snowflakes Falling". Our new fingerplay will be "Here's a Great Big Hill" and "Five Little Snowen". We look forward to lots of flannelboard fun! "I'm a little Penguin" is sure to be a new favorite. Mrs. Christine will have the children talking about what snowmen wear as they build one on the flannelboard.

Concept

Mrs. Sara has a week of fun planned in the Concept class. During calendar time, the children will learn about the new month of January and our new year, 2019! She has a winter matching game planned, as well as a snowflake counting activity. The children will have a blast scooping ice cubes out of the water table. Mrs. Sara will also have a discussion about proper winter clothing.

Craft and Writing

It's a New Year and time to work on cutting skills! Mrs. Nicole will have the children cut both play-doh and scraps to strengthen their fine motor skills. Some cold weather crafts are sure to warm us up! The children will enjoy snow and ice painting as well as creating a melting snowman. A heart warming craft is also in the works for this week. Painting a snowflake with snow paint is sure to be a messy treat.

Motor

The teachers will work on the ball and wand (eye-hand coordination), tunnel play and an obstacle course. We will also enjoy playing snowman knockdown.
