Language Arts:

Some mammals are big and some are small. Let's learn about the many unique mammals that live on Earth. Our class will discuss tigers, monkeys, bears, and even reptiles and birds. We will explore picture files of these mammals both small and large. We will also enjoy fun stories that relate to this topic.

Motor:

The children will get to have fun reenacting the small and large mammals. We will also have a fun game of hopscotch to work on our hoping skills.

Concept

Do they have fur/hair? Do they breath air? Do they have a skeleton? Our class will learn the difference between what is a mammal and what is not, and if it's a large or small mammal. The children will also learn about where the animals live and what they eat, along with comparing and contrasting different animals.

Craft and writing:

Our class will be introduced to new letters Oo and Pp. We will begin to practice using our pencils to trace these letters. We will also use other materials like water colors to paint animals during the week.

- Introductions:
- Letters: Oo and Pp
- Fable #5:
- Review: All that we have learned so far
- Star students: Evany P. and Sophia D.
