Language Arts:

It's a plane, a train, a bus, it's Bobbie Noonan's transportation weeks! The children will be delighted to learn songs, finger plays, and books dealing with modes of transportation that move on land, air, and water! Here is just a glimpse of one of our new finger plays:

My Bicycle

One wheel, two wheels, on the ground
My feet push the pedals round and round
Hands on the handlebars help me steer straight,
Down the sidewalks and out the gate!

Motor:

Where is green light?
Where is green light?
Here I am. Here I am.
Tell us what you say, Sir. Tell us what you say, sir. I say go! I say go!

The children will learn this terrific tune as we review the importance of traffic lights. This song will direct the students to go, wait, or stop with their plain, train, or automobile.

Concept

The Valentine are here. The Valentines are there. The Valentines are everywhere. This song will help our children review positional words with their Valentine hearts. In science time, the children will love weighing different transportation vehicles.
