

Alsip Pre-K Update
Week 35 April 12-16
Theme: Weather

Language

A chance of rain? This week, Ms. Jen will be talking to the children about the different types of weather. Many books and cute finger plays will also be done this week. Theme based vocabulary will include words such as funnel cloud, hail, blizzard and more.

Craft and Writing

This week we will be reviewing our numbers and alphabet. We will be strengthening our fine motor skills with cutting and gluing practice. Shaving cream fun will be had as the children write their name in the "clouds".

Concept

This is a fun and exciting week for the children to learn about different types of weather. Mrs. Ann has a fun science experiment planned making rain and clouds in a jar. The children will be voting on which season is their favorite and answering questions such as "Where does rain come from"?

Motor

This week we will go outside and enjoy the spring weather as much as possible. We will have relay races and set up an outside obstacle course using some of our playground equipment. The parachute will also add to the fun.
