Theme: Insects

May 6, 2024

Let's get buggy!!!

Ants, caterpillars, grasshoppers and bumble bees will keep us engaged as we explore the world of insects this week.

This week we will be reviewing all concepts that have been introduced so far this year.

Story # 13, Help, will be added to our Bold Beginning Story Board.

Have a great week!

Mrs. Paula, Mrs. Karen, Mrs. Donielle

Language Art: We will be reading various stories to celebrate Mother's Day, such as Momma's Work Shoes, by Caron Lewis and Your Mommy Was Just Like You, by Kelly Bennett. To enhance our reading skills, we will play a game of Showdown, a sight word review game.

Concept: Riddle of the Week: They walk, crawl, swim and fly all over the world, and there are more of them than any other animal on EARTH! What are they? If you said Insects, you are right. Stay tuned for some interesting facts about these little creatures.

Craft & Writing This week's papers will include tracing, reading and completing the picture. We will end the week with a cute insect craft.

Motor: Our activities outside will include walking like a spider and caterpillar. We will also try to bump all our insects off the parachute as we make waves.
