

Toddler Time

August 19-23 Theme: Friendship

Introductions: The Bell

Our little Toddler friends are doing such a great job adjusting to our new routine! The fun will continue this week as we get acquainted with each other.

This week we will introduce "The Bell" during circle time. The bell is a great attention grabber that signals to our class that it is time to listen. Our little friends are loving circle time and feel so proud of themselves when we sing their name and they put their name rainbow on the magnetic board for attendance time.

Language class will include songs such as "I Have a Friend", "The More We Get Together" and "Ten Little Friends". The class is loving Mrs. Jackie's new library books titled You Are New and Move Your Mood.

In Concept class we will practice turn taking games where we roll a color dice and follow the instruction such as hug a friend or give a high five. Teamwork will be encouraged as we build colorful towers together and take turns knocking them down.

Art will continue to provide opportunities for our little friends to explore various mediums such as paints, play-doh as well as outdoor teamwork chalk play.

Gross motor play on our outdoor park is a great way to start our morning. The children will enjoy ball play and bubbles outside. The indoor climber provides fun and safe climbing for all.
