Week #17 December 2-6, 2024

Manners

INTRODUCING: 13 & 14

STAR STUDENT: Niam

LANGUAGE AND READING:

We have really been working hard on our manners this school year. This week we are going to continue to learn how to be mannerly. We will role play giving and receiving gifts, table manners, toileting manners and proper handwashing. We will learn about the yucky Goops and the nasty Thingamajigs.

Daily review, singing, routine and library time will also be done this week.

CONCEPT:

The numbers 13 & 14 will be added to the concept shelf jobs this week. We are doing a great job counting all the way to 100. The children love to do their calendar count downs to special days each week. We have also been working on reading the days of the week. They are doing such a good job at this!

We are going to do a germ experiment with the children to show them how germs do not like soap.

CRAFT AND WRITING:

The children will be working on printing the numbers 13 and 14. We will also do some readiness papers with these numbers. We will work on proper printing skills by writing our first names. We will soon move onto our last names.

Our little artists will be using different supplies to start creating Christmas decorations.

LOOKING AHEAD:

Holiday Celebration is on Dec. 10 at 9:15. Only 2 guests per child.
